Yosemite National Park Roads Will Be Ready for Automobiles About the Sixteenth.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Assistant Secretary of the Interior Miller announced today that the first road to be opened to automobiles in Yosemite National Park will be on August 16, instead of August 1, as announced yesterday. It will take until August 16, said Miller, to get the old Coulterville road, the first to be opened, ready for automobiles. Soon after the Coulterville road is opened a portion of the Big Oak Flat road will be opened. By September 15 Miller believes all the roads in the park will be ready for use by automobiles. Miller will be in Yosemite Park when the Coulterville road is opened.
Regulations governing the use of the roads, prepared by Maj. Littlefield, acting superintendent of the park, will be sent to Littlefield for final revision tomorrow. These regulations state the hours when automobiles can enter the park, speed limits on certain roads and other requirements, which will soon be made public. Representative Kahn today conferred with Miller concerning the regulations.

INDICTED FOR RIVA'S DEATH.
Governor of Havana Province and Member of Cuban Congress Held Without Bail on Homicide Charge.
[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]
HAVANA, July 10.—The Supreme Court found indictments tonight against Gen. Asbert, Governor of Havana province, and Representative Arias on the charge of homicide, assault with firearms and resistance to authority. The indicted men were held responsible for the killing of Gen. Armando Riva, chief of the Cuban national police, were not given the option of bail.
Senator Vidal Morales was indicted on the charge of assault and resistance and was allowed to remain at liberty provisionally.
The court officially notified the Senate and House of Representatives of the indictments with the proviso that no further proceedings will be taken against the accused until the wishes of Congress are ascertained.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR RIVA.
Women Cast Flowers from Balconies on Coffin of Havana's Chief of Police.
[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]
HAVANA, July 10.—The ceremonies in connection with the funeral of Gen. Armando Riva this afternoon were marked by great military pomp. Thousands of soldiers and residents of Havana followed the escort to the cemetery. Many women cast flowers from balconies and windows on the coffin, which was borne on a gun carriage.
Complete order was maintained, but a feeling of insecurity and apprehension is still general.

Abel and Mrs. Elinor
Brought Here Today

Rough birds seemed to be the lovely throat of Jennie Lee and clear notes found perfect home in their reverberated walls. The musical soul of Carl Thomsen listened enthralled as the daughter of an ex-Mayor of San Francisco sang her romantic songs and words and music for the beautiful show from cabaret here and in the more southern states. Their eyes met one another and all the love of a lifetime was wrapped about them which went sure and true to the heart of the San Diego girl. They were married—married in the city by Dr. Charles Edwards on November 17, 1911, the wedding morning, according to information received yesterday by the law will arrive from San Francisco with the cabaret girl. The couple came to the city with the part, J. N. Abel, actor of the stage, who lives in the city, and a person of importance in the automobile world, but who appears to answer to the name of an alleged statutory wife to defend a $10,000 suit for alleged alienation of affections. After the romantic marriage, the wedding and marriage were celebrated in a "grand, sweet scene" on Monday. Then, so the story goes, Abel, with unlimited funds, had no unlimited funds had automobiles—had in fact, only one, and a small capacity for his work in local orchestra. Sublimated joy rides extended one end of the State to the other from the Palace in San Francisco. The U. S. Grant in San Diego, who had occupied the same months in October, 1911, for alienation was filed, and found impossible to get away. A few days ago Abel and Thomsen located Abel in San Francisco. The girl of the cabaret, too, say the lawyers, and Thomsen took his papers and north, where, with the aid of Abel, he is now in the city. Abel related the process of law and his attorney's demand for the Los Angeles girl. TOO MUCH EVERYTHING, TOO LITTLE RELIGION.
"Father Endeavor" Clark Thus Sums the Situation Today.

Makes Plea for Self-denial Work and Hopes to Bring Christian Endeavor Membership Up to Five Millions Within Two Years—Fully Ten Thousand Attend Second International Session.

THE second session of the international convention of Christian Endeavor was attended last night by the same great throng, characterized by the same splendid enthusiasm and music as on the opening night, and had that feeling of at-homeness that comes to great gatherings after its first day.

The tent was filled earlier last night, but it is just about sufficient to accommodate the crowd without discomfort and leave room for the late-comer to find room somewhere. Fully 10,000 persons were present. The elevated seats being well filled for the first time.

The official registration had reached in the neighborhood of 9000 last night before the opening of the session, and others are still coming in. The announcement was made that Hon. J. A. McDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, had arrived during the evening.

Dr. John Willis Baer presided last night and gave the convention a touch of humor at every opportunity. He put a tender personal touch to the introduction of Dr. Francis E. Clark, president of the United Society, who was about to deliver his annual address. "What he appears to you, he is," said Dr. Baer.

NO FIREWORKS.

"I have no fireworks to explode," said Dr. Clark, who was received with the Chautauqua salute. "I don't know that I could explode them if I had."

Many of these international conventions have been marked by great special movements. Four years ago we decided to move for a million more members before another meeting, and now more than reached the mark. Two years ago "efficiency" was made the watchword and you have had two years of the greatest advance in the work of Christian Endeavor. So I hope that this convention may be marked by some great step.

"Thirty-two years ago, on February 2, the Christian Endeavor movement was born, and when the convention meets in July, 1915, it will be just a generation old. Its membership will have multiplied 100,000 times, and its members will have become 5,000,000 members."

Dr. Clark made a plea for an honorary membership for old members so that once a man or woman has signed the pledge, he may never be divorced from it. He also stated that in the thirty years, through Christian Endeavor, more than $20,000,000 has been given to missionary and other causes.

"More than 50,000,000 meetings of societies have been held," he said. "The little meetings and prayers of a single society may seem very insignificant, but when you take the aggregate of meetings and prayers they become something impressive. Who can reckon their benefits?"

"The work of the past four years is God's guidebook for what we may expect in the four years to come. We take for our watchword, 'Increase and efficiency,' and let us have a period of self-denial that it may be made effective."

"The suffragettes of London—we do not admire their tactics, do we? And yet they have a self-denial. If they were more reasonable in their methods I think they'd have our sympathy in their contentions."

SELF-DENIAL WEEK.

"This I am sure, will set your approval. Make the week in which February 2 occurs an 'Increase and Efficiency' week. Oh, I am so tired of hearing people talk about giving too much time to religion; too many meetings, and all that! We have too much of almost everything else and too little religion."

Pasadena Girl Becomes Deaconess of Episcopal Church Preliminary to Missionary Work in China.

Leaving the comforts of home and the companionship of a host of friends, Miss Julia A. Clark, daughter of Stephen Cutter Clark of Pasadena, will, on August 16, sail from San Francisco for China, where she will spend the next five years in missionary work as an Episcopal deaconess. At a special service in All Saints Church, Pasadena, on August 12, Miss Clark will be "set apart" as a deaconess by Bishop Johnson. She prepared for her work in the Training School for Deaconesses in the Diocese of Los Angeles, and also spent a year in the Church Training and Deaconess House in Philadelphia.

The first two years in China will be devoted by Miss Clark to study of the Chinese language. The missionary district of Hankow, in which her labors will be located, covers the province of Hupoh and Hunan, and comprises thirty-eight stations, nine schools, including one university and two hospitals, all of which are under the supervision of Bishop Root, the Episcopal prelate of China.

Clinical Psychologist Named by Education Board.
To Standardize All Children on Scientific Basis.

The office of clinical psychologist to the public schools of Los Angeles was yesterday created by the Board of Education. George L. Leslie will be the first person to occupy this position. His salary will be $2700 a year. This is a precedent for American cities and perhaps for the world. No other metropolis is so well, the reader may take his choice of adjectives ranging from "honored" to "afflicted" and from "favored" to "experimented upon." The plain facts are that the good old summer time has no influence on the Board of Education. Bravely it marched forth yesterday, saw its duty and did it.

"Here," said the board to itself, so to speak, "is a perfectly good city with 400,000 much psychology at large and no clinical psychologist to painlessly vivisection, analyze and otherwise demonstrate the abnormality. It is true that other places have the same aching void in their cosmos, but these are not perfectly good cities. We will put Los Angeles right with the world." Then they did it, all members voting aye. The creation of a complex office is astonishingly simple.

Seriously speaking, and certainly no one would speak otherwise on such a subject, a clinical psychologist is of tremendous importance in the right field and the board has the word of Superintendent Francis for it that never was there such another field as Los Angeles. The superintendent explained that in this city some pupils

THOUSAND FORGERIES IN SEVEN THOUSAND NAMES.
County Clerk Leland Pronounces the Earl-Haynes-Norton Salary Ordinance Referendum Petition One of the Most Corrupt Documents Ever Filed—It's Hooded Out of the Courthouse.

THE referendum petition which was designed to harass the District Attorney and Sheriff and which acted as a boomerang in helping spread disaffection among the so-called "Progressives" was officially declared insufficient by the County Clerk yesterday.

The supervisors showed no surprise, it being well known several days ago that the petition would fall flat because of the manifest padding and corruption.

The Earl-Norton-Haynes combination will try to file a supplemental list to make up the necessary 6660 names, but the legal opinion of Asst. Dist. Atty. Ford is that a supplemental list cannot be filed on the referendum petition. Whether Supervisor Norton will care to seek out legal advice is not known at the present time. Since the anger of the 600 county employees was directed against him for deliberately trying to hold up their salaries to satisfy personal spite he has been quiet during the past few days.

The referendum petition showed about 2000 signatures out of 7200 to be illegal. The salary ordinance passed by the supervisors June 2 will be in force until a new ordinance is passed that supersedes it.

All the petitions are now in the hands of the grand jury. It looks as though the action of this body will compel the persons back of the petition to come forward and admit that no effort was made to secure legal names, but that the thing was rushed through in a haphazard manner in order to embarrass the District Attorney and Sheriff.

It is not believed that the grand jury will finish with the crooked referendum petition today, as many more subterfuges have been sent out. Chief Trial Deputy Hammon is placed under the ban of secrecy and the grand jurors passed a resolution to keep the names of the witnesses from the newspapers.

PERJURY IS ADDED.

From a legal standpoint, at least two crimes may have been committed. Perjury in signing names of persons without their knowledge and perjury in swearing that the signatures were genuine.

Many employees at the Courthouse remarked yesterday that it seems curious that a petition gotten up by the "Holler-Than-Thou" element should be exposed by Good Government officials and a split made in the ranks of the faction that styles itself "Progressive."

Clark Leland, the County Clerk, pronounced the petition one of the most corrupt documents ever filed. It's hooded out of the Courthouse.

PIETY VERSUS POLITICS; SOULS WIN HANDS DOWN.
I WAS A warm day for a fight, but it was a battle royal between politics and religion at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon with 2000 Christian Endeavorers as spectators and Dr. Ira Landrith, president of Ward-Belmont College, Nashville, officiating.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Francis E. Clark of Boston, founder of the Endeavor Society. The prayer service was led by Percy S. Foster of Washington, D. C., who was dressed in white flannels a shining face, white shirt and a smile. He is said to be the finest chorus director of the United States. He sings in patches all over the house, or has the congregation do it, and when he gets through with "Bringing in the Sheaves" or "How Firm a Foundation," it looks like a crazy quilt. A Christian Endeavor hymn is repeated by Director Foster and something a leopard can't—it can change its spots without moving.

After a prayer by Rev. William Landrith, pastor of Westlake Presbyterian Church, and a stately song by the quartette of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, Dr. Clark introduced Dr. Landrith and religion and politics soon mixed it.

Fifteen years ago when Dr. Landrith began to be introduced at Endeavor conventions he wore long dark locks, an intellectual brow and a heft to speak of. He is as tall as he used to be and has the same clear voice, but he has a breadth of shoulders equalled only by birth of belt, upholstery in other directions and good disposition. THOUSAND FORGERIES IN SEVEN THOUSAND NAMES.
County Clerk Leland Pronounces the Earl-Haynes-Norton Salary Ordinance Referendum Petition One of the Most Corrupt Documents Ever Filed—It's Hooded Out of the Courthouse.

THE referendum petition which was designed to harass the District Attorney and Sheriff and which acted as a boomerang in helping spread disaffection among the so-called "Progressives" was officially declared insufficient by the County Clerk yesterday.

The supervisors showed no surprise, it being well known several days ago that the petition would fall flat because of the manifest padding and corruption.

The Earl-Norton-Haynes combination will try to file a supplemental list to make up the necessary 6660 names, but the legal opinion of Asst. Dist. Atty. Ford is that a supplemental list cannot be filed on the referendum petition. Whether Supervisor Norton will care to seek out legal advice is not known at the present time. Since the anger of the 600 county employees was directed against him for deliberately trying to hold up their salaries to satisfy personal spite he has been quiet during the past few days.

The referendum petition showed about 2000 signatures out of 7200 to be illegal. The salary ordinance passed by the supervisors June 2 will be in force until a new ordinance is passed that supersedes it.

All the petitions are now in the hands of the grand jury. It looks as though the action of this body will compel the persons back of the petition to come forward and admit that no effort was made to secure legal names, but that the thing was rushed through in a haphazard manner in order to embarrass the District Attorney and Sheriff.

It is not believed that the grand jury will finish with the crooked referendum petition today, as many more subterfuges have been sent out. Chief Trial Deputy Hammon is placed under the ban of secrecy and the grand jurors passed a resolution to keep the names of the witnesses from the newspapers.

PERJURY IS ADDED.

From a legal standpoint, at least two crimes may have been committed. Perjury in signing names of persons without their knowledge and perjury in swearing that the signatures were genuine.

Many employees at the Courthouse remarked yesterday that it seems curious that a petition gotten up by the "Holler-Than-Thou" element should be exposed by Good Government officials and a split made in the ranks of the faction that styles itself "Progressive."

PIETY VERSUS POLITICS; SOULS WIN HANDS DOWN.
I WAS A warm day for a fight, but it was a battle royal between politics and religion at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon with 2000 Christian Endeavorers as spectators and Dr. Ira Landrith, president of Ward-Belmont College, Nashville, officiating.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Francis E. Clark of Boston, founder of the Endeavor Society. The prayer service was led by Percy S. Foster of Washington, D. C., who was dressed in white flannels a shining face, white shirt and a smile. He is said to be the finest chorus director of the United States. He sings in patches all over the house, or has the congregation do it, and when he gets through with "Bringing in the Sheaves" or "How Firm a Foundation," it looks like a crazy quilt. A Christian Endeavor hymn is repeated by Director Foster and something a leopard can't—it can change its spots without moving.

After a prayer by Rev. William Landrith, pastor of Westlake Presbyterian Church, and a stately song by the quartette of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, Dr. Clark introduced Dr. Landrith and religion and politics soon mixed it.

REMOVED TO HOME.

Injured Water Color Artist, Mother of Child Actress, Is Taken to Long Beach.

Mrs. Olga Clark, the Long Beach artist and mother of the youngest motion picture actress, was taken to her home, No. 924 Locust avenue, Wednesday afternoon from injuries sustained at Fourth and Spring streets Tuesday night. While crossing the street in front of a car she was struck by a car coming in the opposite direction.

When taken to the Receiving Hospital Mrs. Clark was suffering from internal injuries. A slight operation was performed, and she was taken to her home, where further surgical relief will be given her.

Mrs. Clark is known by her water color paintings, one of which hangs in the Long Beach public library, and by her talented daughter, Virginia, who has had sensational success in juvenile roles with the "movies."

BIG ISSUES AT STAKE IN SUIT.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS INVOLVED.

Plaintiff Charges Railroads Sold Land Grants in Excess of Government's Stipulated Provisions—Defendants' Defense Is Denial of Allegations.

A case, small in itself but indicating an avalanche of similar litigation, was temporarily disposed of in the United States District Court yesterday.

The suit was that of Joseph A. Smith against the Texas Pacific Railroad Company, Southern Pacific Railroad Company and the Southern Pacific Land Company, involving a deed to 47.68 acres of land in Riverside county. The court allowed the defendants' motion to dismiss the suit, but gave the plaintiff leave to amend his complaint so as to bring it within the jurisdiction of the court.

Smith brought suit to recover an excess of $1 an acre paid for the land over and above the price agreed on under the terms of the land grant from Congress. There will be a consolidation of interests when the amount sought to be recovered amounts to $2000, thus placing the action within the jurisdiction of the United States District Court.

The defendant primarily is the Texas Pacific Railroad, which has been merged with the Southern Pacific Railroad. Under the act of Congress of 1871 the United States granted to the Texas Pacific Railroad certain lands from Marshall, Tex., to San Diego, a strip 400 feet wide and land to the extent of forty acres at any one point for stations, and alternate sections in California, not mineral.

It was further provided that all such lands so granted, not sold or otherwise disposed of within three years after completion of the road, should be subject to settlement and pre-emption at a price to be fixed at not more than $2.50 per acre.

On September 10, 1911, the plaintiff purchased of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company 47.68 acres of land at $25 an acre. It is alleged that the already had paid $148.88 on the contract, or $3.10 an acre, a dollar in excess of the price the act provides.

It also is claimed that neither of the defendants were the owners of the lands at any time, but held them in trust for the government.

It is alleged that the plaintiff is entitled to a deed for his land free of encumbrance, that the contract between Smith and the railroad companies is null and void, and that Smith recover what he has paid in excess of the $2.50-per-acre price.

If the litigants are successful in the promised big suit it will mean that the defendant corporations will be compelled to return hundreds of thousands of dollars collected from purchasers. The point also is made by the plaintiff that all of the money in excess of $2.50 per acre should be paid over to the government by the defendants.

It is alleged that the railroad and land companies the defense is a general denial of the allegations and an attack on the jurisdiction of the court.

Good Argument.

PISTOL POINT GETS CHANGE.

GUNMAN PERSUADES CONDUCTOR HE'S MADE MISTAKE.

Compelling Command, "Hands Up!" Startles Passengers and Throws Street Car Man Into Sublimative Attitude—Hold-up Man Achieves His Right.

"Hands up!" This compelling command startled half a dozen early passengers and threw a street car conductor almost into a fit at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The scene of the little drama was on the rear end of a North Main street car, at North Main street and Eastlake avenue. The motorman, D. A. Hackleman, turned around to see the conductor, W. L. Howe, with his hands high in the air.

William J. Vine, a night watchman for the Lacey Manufacturing Company, residing at No. 2109 Baldwin avenue, had given the command. He had a gun. And he didn't show an interest in the motorman or any of the passengers. He pointed the gun at the conductor's stomach.

Between Vine and Conductor Howe a quiet dialogue was proceeding. Vine charged that when Howe collected his fare the conductor short-changed him to the extent of 30 cents. Vine went to his seat thinking Howe would notice his mistake and come in to rectify it. He waited a considerable length of time, then went back to the conductor and demanded the rest of his change. The conductor refused to pounce. Vine drew the gun.

"Now will you give me that 30 cents?"

The conductor took one hand out of the air long enough to drag forth three small pieces of silver. Vine went back to his seat. The conductor gave the motorman two bells and the car went on. When Vine was ready to get off he alighted from the car and went home. He had a very satisfied look.

Detectives McMahon and Level went to Vine's home later in the day and arrested him on suspicion of highway robbery. Vine frankly told how he had rectified a financial error on the part of the conductor. But he's still in jail.

Canal to Benefit Railroads as Well as Ships.

Canada Preparing to Handle Exposition Crowds.

Recognizing the possibilities of increased traffic expansion latent in the opening of the Panama Canal, the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain System has sent H. C. Dinkins, its general agent at Mexico City, on a tour that will extend over six months and include every city of the first importance in Central and South America.

So far as known, Dinkins will be the first railroad emissary to invade the Latin-American countries. Local shippers have been invited by E. A. Blair, the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain general agent here, to suggest to him such things as will make Dinkins' trip beneficial to them.

One of the particular subjects of which Dinkins will make a thorough investigation is the credit systems of the republics to the south in which shippers are particularly interested, especially as Latin-American practices in this line are radically different from those obtaining in the United States.

CANADA TO HELP EXPECTS LARGE TRAFFIC.

By 1915 Canada will have four transcontinental lines where it now has but one. In other words, exposition year will see the Dominion ready to afford this State yeoman service in transporting the immense crowds that will attend the San Diego and San Francisco shows.

Railroad men are interested in the moral which may be read into the activity in railroad construction in John Bull's dominion to the north. As they see it, Canada is benefiting itself by encouraging the railroad to tap new territory and to improve transportation facilities, while in the United States public opinion demands that railroad expansion be curtailed, no matter if development is retarded.

According to the Bureau of Railway News and Statistics, the Canadian Northern has benefited most by the favorable attitude of the Dominion government, having been granted a cash subsidy of $15,440,000. Of this, $9,848,000 is an absolute gift from the people of Canada to the Canadian Northern Railway, but the government obtains a transfer of $7,000,000 of the company's shares in respect of the balance of $5,552,000.

EXCURSION BY WAGON. NOVELTY IN COLORADO.

Lack of railroad facilities has not deterred Dolores, the largest city of the San Juan Basin of Southwestern Colorado, and adjacent portions of the Santa Fe, but has been leaping to the fore with the most unique excursion proposition that has been presented to the notice of local passenger men in a decade.

According to advices received yesterday from San Juan, excursion trips are scheduled from Dolores to the natural bridges of Utah for the first time, August 5 and 23. The three bridges are 230 miles from Dolores and the trip will be by wagon, operating on six-day schedules from terminal to terminal, with stopover privileges of one day at Bluffs.

MUCH SAVED FROM JUNK.

More than $12,000 has been extracted by the Southern Pacific from its shop scrap-heaps at Los Angeles, according to General Storekeeper Pearce, who left yesterday for the north after checking over the savings of the salvage system inaugurated by him in July, 1913.

One of the principal items is work over old locomotive boiler tubes for use as water, air and oil pipes. Heretofore these tubes were sold as junk at a small price.

Nearly all the Southern Pacific's experimenting in extracting dollars and cents from scrap heaps has been done here. As the system has proved a large local success, it will be extended immediately to all shops of the system.

CROSSINGS CLEAR.

FEW DEATHS RECORD.

That there are fewer automobile accidents at railroad grade crossings than is ordinarily assumed, is shown by a table just issued by the Southern Pacific showing that there were but two such accidents on its line in the period between April 1 and May 23. One of these was at San Francisco, where one person was killed and another seriously injured. The other was at Fresno and resulted in the serious injury of one person.

As an appendix of this table is another showing that there were 149 automobile accidents in California, Oregon, Washington, and Nevada during the same period, resulting in thirty-two deaths, the serious injury of fifty-five persons and the minor injury of 117 others.

LARGE EARNINGS. SANTA FE PROSPEROUS.

Gross revenues, $10,000,000 in excess of last year's high-water mark of $108,000,000, will be the enviable record of the Santa Fe for the fiscal year just closed, according to officials of that company. Yet this is the railroad that was once contemptuously referred to on the floors of Congress as "a desert line, predestined to starvation."

More remarkable than all is the fact that less than a decade ago the Santa Fe was in the hands of receivers. A turn in its affairs occurred with the appointment of Edward Payson Ripley as president and today the Santa Fe is one of the few railroads in the country whose annual gross revenues run over the $100,000,000 mark.

Commission Hearings.

A number of hearings in which Southern California has an interest are scheduled for the near future by the State Railroad Commission. Next Monday Commissioner Thelen, sitting in San Francisco, will hear the joint application of the El Molino Terrace Land and Water Company and the city of Pasadena for permission to transfer property. The 17th inst. Commissioner Gordon will sit at Fullerton to hear the application of the FEDERAL JURY REPORTS.

To Be Discharged Today After Eight Months' Service—Beginning of July Court Term.

The Federal grand jury will make its final report to Judge Weiborn this afternoon and be discharged from service that has continued since January. It is expected that at least a half-dozen indictments will be returned, but none of exceptional interest.

The July term will begin Monday. About 100 civil and criminal cases will be set for trial, the largest docket in several years of cases demanding immediate attention. Among important criminal cases to be set are those against the Cleveland Oil Company, the Seaboard Transit Company, Dr. John Grant Lyman and a number of prosecutions involving alleged violations of the postal laws.

Because of Melons.

Cantaloupes and train service apparently have no connection, but the huge crop of the former which the Moapa Valley of Nevada now has ready for shipment, resulted in a decision yesterday by Salt Lake officials to supplement the present motor car service on the branch line between St. Thomas and Moapa with mixed train service, operating each way daily. The Moapa Valley melon crop is estimated at 800 cars, the largest in history. The schedule for the new service is: Leave St. Thomas, 5:30 a.m., arrive Moapa, 10:30 a.m.; connect with main line trains Nos. 2 and 82; returning, leave Moapa, 3 p.m.

A DOCTOR'S LAMENT.

Snow Is Amazed That So Many People Are Dying of Diseases He Says Are "Preventable."

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.

SACRAMENTO, July 10.—Commenting on the startling total of 31,000 deaths in California from January 1, 1910 to December 31, 1912, from ten diseases, all preventable,

Dr. V. F. Snow, secretary of the State Board of Health, in the board's latest bulletin, declares that 13,843 of the victims could be alive today and with from 30 to 50 years of useful prosperous lives ahead of them.

"This is a significant, tragic fact about these ten diseases (pneumonia, diphtheria, tuberculosis, typhoid fever,

meningitis, whooping cough, diptheria, measles, scarlet fever and small pox) which are popularly supposed to be seasonal in prevalence," writes Dr. Snow.

The chief factors which he alleges prevent deaths are given as follows:

Proper housing, early treatment for diseases, clean milk, good food, pure water, vaccination, clean living and proper clothing.

TRUST COMPANY SUSPENDS.

Creditors of Big Corporation to Be Paid in Full—New State Law Causes Liquidation.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.

PORTLAND, July 10.—The First

Trust Company of Portland closed its doors today and asked for the appointment of a receiver. The refusal of the State Commissioner of Corporations to issue it a permit under a new law that requires trust companies to have a capital of $100,000 said to have been the cause of the company's decision to liquidate.

Officials stated that trustees appointed by the stockholders were now winding up the company's affairs.

They said creditors would be paid in full.

The company was formed with a capital of $500,000, which subsequently was reduced to $250,000. As a result of the reduction it was unable, under the new law, to continue in business.

SACRAMENTO, July 10.—One

chance only is left to Jacob Oppenheimer, "human tiger," to escape the gallows tomorrow at Folsom prison.

That one chance is a slim one, because it rests with Gov. Johnson, who yesterday granted a reprieve to Ah

Lee, Chinese, under sentence to hang at San Quentin, and did not include in his executive orders one for Oppenheimer nor one for Frank Bauwerts, to hang tomorrow at San Quentin for murder.

At the capital today the understanding is that Gov. Johnson will not come to the rescue of Oppenheimer, but will let him hang.

The growth of Venice and the increase in property values during the past 5 years has been proportionately greater than anything OUTSIDE OF THE ACTUAL BUSINESS DISTRICT OF LOS ANGELES. Venice is the "Atlantic City of the West." It has already made millions for investors in less than ten years. And millions more will be made in the choicer subdivisions immediately back of it along Washington boulevard.

Kensington Green—the most attractive subdivision on Washington boulevard—is a continuation of the best residential growth of Venice—and the only place that the investor or homeseeker can get in at LOW PRICES.

Kensington Green commands a superb view of the ocean and mountains—it is covered with bearing walnut trees and is being improved along lines that will conform harmoniously with the fashionable residential development of Venice.

The hundreds of thousands who are coming within the next 5 years will demand residence sites NEAR VENICE! Not at the seashore, where sand lots are held at $10,000 and up—but back on the higher ground where there are trees, good soil and a perpetual view of the ocean and mountains.

Buy near Venice NOW—while you can do it at low prices. Buy at Kensington Green and you will make 100 per cent profit in mighty quick time.

Many beautiful homes are to be built immediately at Kensington Green. Improvements of the highest class are now being established. Two rapid transit car lines afford quick, dependable car service to Venice or Los Angeles. The car fare is 10 cents—but it's worth a nickel more to be independent of the slow-moving, uncomfortable yellow cars. Big lots $740 and up. Frontages ranging up to 200 feet. Electric lights, public park, ornamental trees, shrubs, big walnut trees, substantial street and cement work.

And it might interest you to know that over $15,000,000 worth of residential development is to be established on the hills immediately back of Kensington Green.

CASTLE RANCH SOLD.

San Francisco Capitalist Buys Stockton Property for Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars.

STOCKTON, July 10.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The Castle ranch, consisting of 1000 acres of rich land, six miles north of this city on the Sacramento-Stockton road, was yesterday sold to Charles Schleissinger, of San Francisco. The price paid is said to have been in the neighborhood of $150,000, this being the second time in six months that the ranch has changed hands. H. U. Castle, former owner, is one of the best-known ranchers of San Joaquin Valley. He obtained the greater portion of the ranch from the government fifty years ago. Castle also purchased land from the Southern Pacific Railroad Company until the homestead grew to 1000 acres.

MEASLES SORE AT HIS NAME.

Says It Hurts His Business and Asks Permission of Court to Change It to Maselle.

THE TIMES, July 10.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Fearing that his name on a business signboard would give the impression that the place was under quarantine, and to free himself from ridicule when introduced to strangers, Andrew Maselle today applied to the Superior Court for permission to change his name to Andrew Maselle.

Andrew was born at Alexandria, Tenn., and in his home town, where his father, mother, brothers and sisters reside, and are well known, no ill effects are felt by the family. But in the outside world, the petitioner says, his name is continually causing him mortification and mental distress. When he is introduced to strangers in California, he alleges, they immediately begin to laugh when his name is pronounced. If a matter of business is to be discussed, the name Maselle distracts the other party to the conversation from the subject matter.

Measles says he is about to engage in business for himself and fears that if he puts his true name over the door of his place, it will act as an injunction against customers coming in, rather than place him in a position to make a living.

Measles says he has no other reason to offer for the change desired, as he owes nothing. He believes his material prosperity in life depends upon his being known by the more French name of Maselle.

ROOSEVELTS AT SILVER CITY.

DEMING (N. M.) July 10.—(By A. P. Night Wire.) Col. Theodore Roosevelt and two sons left here this morning in automobiles for Silver City.

The Portland Beavers Shut Out Venice Tigers and Climb Into Second Place

VENICE WAS BUMPED AGAIN.

Ty Lober Again Proved to Be the Star.

Hap Hogan Fired Into the Club House.

Patsy O'Rourke Goes in Behind the Bat.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PORTLAND (Or.) July 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was a great game to witness today until Hogan was put out of the game and then all the glimmer was lost and Venice lost 3 to 0.

Hagerman was sent against the Venetians, McCredie figuring that his speed would fool the batters on account of the darkness and it did for he allowed but four hits.

Griffin was Hogan's selection for the mound and what the Beavers did to him was to knock him out in the first inning.

It was in the second inning that the Venetians began to show their stuff. Lober walked, Korne went out, Brashear to McDonnell, Lindsay taking second. Spear singled over second, Lindy taking third, Lober singled over second, scoring Lindsay. Spear taking third.

Lober was caught trying to make second. Kane to Lischer to Hoop, and Spear was out trying to score. Hoop to Hogan. One run, two hits and Lober, who was a star in the play today again, had scored his first of three hits for the day in four times up and that was all the scoring done until the eighth when Spear singled to Carls and Lober again singled, this time to center. Berry singled between second and third, Lober taking second. Hagerman beat out a bunt down the third base line, filling the bases. Chadbourne singled, infield, scoring Lober. The ball hit the umpire. Doane singled to center, scoring Berry. Rodgers doubled down the left field foul line, scoring Hagerman. Chadbourne and Doane.

Here Hogan was put out of the game for kicking on a decision at the plate and O'Rourke replaced him behind the bat.

Tyger Rodgers scored third and Lindsay walked. Korne went out, Hoop to McDonnell, Rodgers scoring and Lindsay taking second. Spear singled to left, scoring Lindsay.

Lober fled to Carls. Seven runs and seven hits all in half an inning, too.

The Venetians tried hard in the ninth, but all to no avail. Lischer fled to Rodgers. McDonnell was safe on Spear's error. O'Rourke dropped a Texas leaguer back third, McDonnell taking second. Berry singled over Griffin, fanned. Carls walked, filling the bases.

Kane fled to Chadbourne and it was all over. The Beavers' victory was "come shouting." There were several features of the game.

One of the features and most important here in that Portland is to second place in the Coast League after a long and tedious upward climb. "Tip" Hagerman must not be forgotten while the fingers of inexperience are curling up around the Lober shrine.

Hagerman's box work was masterful. He allowed only four scattered hits, and while his gratuities were frequent, he twirled a brand of ball calculated to win on most occasions.

But Zerk's Zeque firing was naturally overshadowed by the Balaklava charge in the eighth.

Not content with permitting a two-run batting rally to satisfy the spectators, Happy Hogan, Venice manager, kicked so hard at a decision at home plate that Umpire Held, held up the fingers of inexperience in curling up around the Lober shrine.

ALL THE SCATTERED CUBS TO REUNITE FOR CHARITY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It plans outlined today by Managers Evers and Tinker of the Cubs and Reds materialize, Chicago fans may see the "Old Guard" reassembled and wearing Chicago Cub fighting tops some afternoon late in September. The idea is to have Tinker, Brown, Kilgus and Sheekard, now Reds; Chance of the Yankees, Zimmerman, Schulte, Evers and Reulbach of the present day Cubs, and Artie Hoffman, recently released to Nashville, reunite and battle the White Sox on either the South or West Side grounds, the receipts to be turned over to the widow of Jimmy Doyle, former Cub third baseman, who died in February, 1912, following an operation for appendicitis.

PERFECT FORM IS SECRET OF KAHANAMOKN'S SUCCESS.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.
T O SEE the great Duke Kahanamok in action, is to see the exemplification of perfection in the art of swimming. He is the master of the liquid element. Speed, grace, power and absolute confidence are all his, making in the aggregate the world's most wonderful swimmer.

Last night at the L.A.A.C. meet he broke the national record and tied the world's record, for the fifty-yard dash, with the indifference of a giant shark out for his morning constitutional.

When the Duke lined up for the first heat of the fifty-yard dash, his splendid form, instead of being all-a-quiver, rested at elegant ease and with all the assurance of a seal about to leap into his native element.

LOVES THE WATER.
When under way his grace and form seem to mark him as almost too perfect to be human. It is very apparent that the great swimmer loves the water; it is his own element and he acts as if he had been born upon the breast of the heaving Pacific.

Any man who can swim fifty yards in 4-1/2 seconds after a slow start, smashing all western records and the national mark as well, with the appearance of only half trying, must be a wonder.

THIS ONLY GOES TO PROVE the old statement that the athlete who performs with the greatest ease is, nine times out of ten, the champion in his particular event.

IT WOULD PROBABLY TAKE a booklet to discuss Kahanamok's style and form, but there are a few features that stand out above all others.

SPEED FROM LEG STROKE.
In the first place, it looks as though his great speed and power comes from the unique use of his legs. He does not use the scissors or man-of-war propeller blades, as is shown by the action of the water in his wake while he is in motion. The water bubbles up after him in exactly the same way as it does in the trail of a motor boat or a torpedo.

This method is not known, but few swimmers can use it at all, owing to the fact that, with the toes turned in, cramps are apt to follow and those who can use it at all never can keep the stroke up after him in exactly the same way as it does in the trail of a motor boat or a torpedo.

For some reason, the Duke is very slow starting, probably because he has not been swimming more than two years with the pistol ketaway.

HAS PERFECT DIVE.
Last night all the swimmers got a big lead on him at the jump-off, but he gave them a lesson in the art of the low round in one stroke. Which goes to prove that if he learns a speedy racing start he should set up records that even the swiftest of swimmers could not hope to stand for a lifetime.

This is the only feature of the Duke's work that could be improved. He has been swimming more than two years with the pistol ketaway.

After he leaves the side of the tank, his arms are held straight out, the full power and distance of his jump, and picks up his stroke at the exact end of the force of the jump, using so many springs, who begin to splash the minute they hit the water.

He does not seem to jump into his racing speed until he has gone 25 yards, but this may be due to the fact that he knows there is nobody else in the tank who can hope to distance him at the finish.

PICKS UP SPEED.
After leaving the twenty-five-yard mark, his wonderful footwork comes into play, and he begins to draw away from the field. There is not a jerk or a jump to his progression through the water, every stroke is timed to pick up the work of the one just finished, so he forges ahead like a speedy cruiser on an even keel.

When he reaches the turn, another exhibition of the principle of maximum efficiency is given. He does not vary his pace or slacken speed, but comes right up to the turn, then hits the back stretch, making a swirling eddy, he drops out of sight, but the next second comes shooting to the surface like a rocket.

TAKES TURN EASILY.
He takes the turn coolly, placing his feet squarely on the side of the tank, then with a mighty heave, he starts on the back stretch.

It is a superb demonstration of perfect muscular control. Last night when he swam the same form and speed at the same speed to the end of the tank from the finish line, and had it not been for the side of the plunge probably would have been seen yet.

He swims the fifty with such ease that one gets the impression that he could use the same form and speed for any distance and it would not surprise him if he did it some day. If he ever goes bankrupt he need not worry, as he could swim home easily.

THE BELGIANS.
FOLKESTONE (England) July 10.—Canada finished with two matches in hand the first day of the play in the semi-final of the Davis cup preliminaries against Belgium with every prospect of meeting in the final round at Wimbledon the winners of the United States series against Germany.

R. B. Powell, the Canadian captain, and B. F. Schwenberg, the Canadian champion, won their matches against P. De Borman and A. G. Watson, respectively, without the loss of a single set. Powell winning by 6-2, 6-1, and Schwenberg, by 6-4, 6-1, and 6-0.

The match between Schwenberg and Watson was keenly contested in the first set. Watson obtained a brief lead, but the Canadian eventually secured an advantage, maintained it and won the set by 6-2.

Powell and Schwenberg's tomorrow meet A. G. Watson and W. H. Du Vivier in the doubles.

THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA tennis championships are to be held on the courts of the Hotel Virginia at Long Beach, starting July 28, and ending August 2. The committee in charge expects the meet to be by far the best ever held.

In addition to all the regular events which are held every year, the committee has decided that the ladies' singles and the men's consolation singles shall be handicap events. This will add greatly to their interest, as it is conceivable that two stars might meet in the first round and the loser would have a walk-away in the consolation, unless handicapped.

All of the older players are expected to enter this meet instead of staying out, as was the case last year. Schwenberg, Miss Scott, Wayne Duncan, and all of the other winners are expected to defend their titles.

And as the youngsters of tennis stars is improving all of the time, excellent tennis should be the result.

In addition to all the regular events which are held every year, the committee has decided that the ladies' singles and the men's consolation singles shall be handicap events. This will add greatly to their interest, as it is conceivable that two stars might meet in the first round and the loser would have a walk-away in the consolation, unless handicapped.

All of the older players are expected to enter this meet instead of staying out, as was the case last year. Schwenberg, Miss Scott, Wayne Duncan, and all of the other winners are expected to defend their titles.

And as the youngsters of tennis stars is improving all of the time, excellent tennis should be the result.

ROTTERDAM.
The Southern California tennis championships are to be held on the courts of the Hotel Virginia at Long Beach, starting July 28, and ending August 2. The committee in charge expects the meet to be by far the best ever held.

SEALS LOSE THE THIRD STRAIGHT TO SENATORS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The man who invented the "Down-Went-McGin" song a few score years back, should have been sweating over the Oakland stands yesterday afternoon as the Seals lost their third straight to the Senators of Sacramento.

It was a sad session for the faithful, who strained a point and made the trip across the bay.

They never had a chance to root. Four three-baggers, of which three were grouped in two innings, and an enlaid defeat of Cack Henley, spelled hard luck right off the reel, and struggle as they would, the Seals and Franchiscans never again were within shooting distance. The wind-up score was 5 to 5 in favor of the boys from out the country.

As a baseball game it was about the poorest excuse for something along the lines of the national pastime that has been seen in many a day. First of all, there was the doubtful that Henley received six runs registered in the second and third innings, and all on six hits.

As if that were not quite enough, Williams, the dusky star of the Sacramentoans, showed a tendency to wildness in the second inning that caused his abrupt departure in favor of Lively. The balance of the game proved one long succession of errors.

The things chiefly came in the second and third, in both of which Williams stayed in the box, although it looked a matter of good judgment for him to retire. Deacon Van Buren doubled to left center in the second and went to third on an out by Kenworthy, who poked the ball at McDardie. Hallinan's single tallied Van Buren and Tennant was hit. Bliss opened the three-bagger campaign when he shot the ball to right field, and there were two more runs.

FOR WOMEN AND MEN.
FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES.
BY OLIVE GRAY.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: No one can wear a pleasing expression while suffering with her feet. Many scorn the services of a chiropodist simply because they do not fully realize the benefits. An acquaintance of mine who met with an injury to the great toe was about to leave the nail, but thought she must submit to the pain until someone suggested a visit to a first-class chiropodist. Her relief was so instant and permanent that she now says anyone is foolish not to visit a chiropodist upon the first symptom of suffering with the feet. She was surprised to learn that the treatment of diseased finger nails is also a part of chiropody.

Do you ever think how many people there are in the world who have the courage to say "No"? It is not men who lack courage to refuse temptation in its usual sense, but those who cannot resist the temptation to comply with a request for help, for instance.

There are times when it is quite as much a duty to refuse assistance as it is to comply. It amounts to a form of self-indulgence, in fact, to comply, but it takes real character to refuse when refusal means examination or condemnation.

I know a woman who has gained a reputation for beneficence because she has been known to refuse to help. She cannot afford to help as much as she does; and she must be fairly really made to help herself many necessities, while she is a benefactor.

I am not that right. It is in fact a duty to refuse to help. Help—when you can do so. It is not pretending to help, when you are not doing it. Some even fool themselves on this score, I think.

A Mere Nothing.
The new silk lace underwear scarcely merits the name of "wear," so filmy is it—a mere nothing in fact—but as pretty as are the petals upon a summer rose. These transparent pieces come in all popular shades, such as delicate blues and rose tints, the latter being most popular according to the French fad for color de rose in lingerie.

New Neck Wear.
At that counter, in one of the Broadway stores where are such adorable articles all bedecked in hand-made ribbon flowers, I saw several new features, yesterday. There was a huge corsage rose of velvet with leaves of velvet and silk, hand tinted in the shades of autumn. Another corsage, just imported, was a cool looking lily in a rosy shade. This stately flower upon its long stem would be charming with a frock of rose chiffon.

Buckles of Irish crochet in white were set round with tiny buds and through their slides were run ribbon of a color to harmonize with the frock or hat. By the way, a new shade in ribbon was seen here—a tint of golden brown, which the pretty one at the counter called "golden prune." There is always something new and interesting at this drowsy counter and it is especially attractive when the weather is warm.

New Belts.
They had just arrived and were under inspection in the saleswoman's quarters when I chanced to peep in and my attention at once rested upon their soft and pliant folds. Belts of extraordinary width and in many colorings they were. Some as wide as four to five inches and with buckles covered in the suede. These belts are worn wrinkled like a mousquetaire's glove and are very becoming to the girl with the slight figure.

In the same consignment were a number of fetching sashes. There is a craze for sashes in the East, those of any color and of every color being worn with frocks of any color. Some of these were of black satin tipped with brilliant bits of Balkan silk and others had one tip of black and one of fringe.

Some of these sashes are worn wrinkled far down over the hips, making one look as though the waist were about half a yard in width, or in slenderness, if it be slender, as in fact it should be, to wear these. They are of the broad belts of suede are also worn around the hips rather than around the waist, carrying out the Balkan effect. (I wonder if the Balkans would recognize themselves in some of our so-called Balkan styles!)

A New Kimono.
It did not seem as though the kimono could possibly take on anything new in shape, whatever the artist might be, but there is actually something new under the kimono sun! A kimono with angel sleeves and deeply rooted sleeves, too. They are, like most of the lingerie family of most immaterial material, principally of lace, which is attached to the skirt and to the shoulders of the garment and flows away like a softly slipping brook. Inexplicable charming is the effect of this new sleeve, which in fact quite re-creates the kimono, making of it a new article altogether. Soft and pliable silks in pretty tones are used for the main part of the garment.

Bulgarian Masquerade.
Another innovation has taken place. The Bulgarian has broken into the kimono world, where it masquerades as the "Tango." In truth, however, it is merely the Bulgarian sash adhered to the kimono. Usually the sash is of a contrasting material and even of a different goods than the kimono.

Bulgarians in Bathing.
And even in bathing suits the Bulgarian has made its appearance. Real comfort, if not extreme symmetry, is a characteristic of these new bathing suits which are named for a number, for some unknown reason or no reason at all. The sashes and other attachments are in a contrasting color or mixture of colors, to the garment itself and the skirts are as blousy as are the Bulgarian blouses. In fact these new bathing suits which are said to have created a furore in the East, are little more than a somewhat elongated Bulgarian blouse, extending to the knees.

Fashion's Ways.
It is predicted that founcees to the hips and outstanding founcees at that, are to be the next decree of fashion, which is fate to women. In fact, some of the leading Paris dress-makers have already created such frocks. What—pray—will become of the too adipose should this mode become universal? It is said that in New York—wicked city that it is!—some women are wearing with their highly slashed skirts, short socks, completed at the top with be-jeweled garters! Will any one have the temerity to parade Broadway—our Broadway—thus? It is whispered that tumblers are coming in. In other words, the corset, after long years of straightforwardness, is to have a few curves in front.

HE KNOWS WHO STOLE IT.
But Detectives Can't Find Time to Help Him Lay His Hands on Guilty Person.
M. W. Moss would welcome the assistance of some skilled detective. He needs the service badly. Comparatively, it is a small case that Moss has, so small in fact that the city detectives can't find time to aid him, he says.

It involves $100. The money didn't belong to Moss. He is an Empire Laundry driver, Twelfth and Crocker streets. His collections for Tuesday amounted to more than $100, which he carried in his wallet. When he went to the office to report he laid his wallet on the desk, and left it there when called outside for a moment. When he returned the money was gone.

In about twelve weeks, by the hardest scrimping, Moss could pay the money back out of his salary, which is about $17 weekly, but he has other demands for the money that make it nearly impossible. In Philadelphia his mother lives alone, except for a younger sister of Moss. The mother has no support except what her son sends her, and being a cripple with a young daughter to care for, it takes every spare cent Moss can give to keep up the little household in the East.

Moss says he knows who is the guilty person. It would require only a slight amount of work to help him out, but the detectives told him they couldn't spare anyone from the central department to investigate such a petty incident as that. Moss lives at No. 812 South Flower street, and his driver number is "five."

DOKKIE SPECIAL SPEEDING EAST.
CARRIES CARLOAD OF CITY'S BEST LITERATURE.
Going to Minneapolis to Tell the Folks What a Fine Place Los Angeles Is—To Wage Vigorous Campaign to Secure Convention in Year of the Exposition.

Under favorable auspices and with a large crowd of fellow Pythians and friends at the depot to wish them bon voyage to Minneapolis, the Los Angeles delegation of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan, or "Dokkies," as they are initially dubbed, left the Arcade Station yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock on a well-equipped special train. The D.O.K.K. is an inner circle of the Knights of Pythias, and members of that order and of the Pythian Sisters, another auxiliary, with the Uniformed Rank, left on the pilgrimage.

Minneapolis is the objective point, for there, on Tuesday, next, the biennial national convention of the Khorassan Knights is to assemble and continue until Saturday; but en route a number of towns will offer hospitality to the wayfarers. A side trip to Lake Tahoe is one of the events, the special being held at Truckee twelve hours for the purpose; receptions at Ogden and Salt Lake City, with a special organ recital in the tabernacle at the latter city, also entertainment at Council Bluffs and Omaha will cheer the pilgrims on their way.

The party is scheduled to arrive in Minneapolis on Tuesday morning and will begin a vigorous campaign to land the convention of 1915 in Los Angeles, and those who are back of the movement are optimistic as to the result. It is expected that one of the highest honors of the convention will be conferred upon Charles Stansbury—that of Past Imperial Prince, in recognition of his having filled the office of Imperial Treasurer for three years successfully.

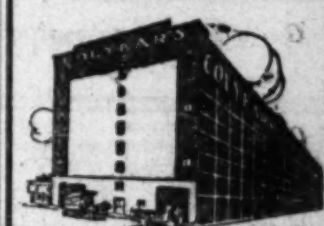

The entire delegation is a committee of the whole on advertising to the questioning East, the substantial as well as the climatic benefits Los Angeles and Southern California have to offer. Three cars, in addition to the passenger equipment, are loaded with convincing arguments for prosecuting such a campaign, a mass of literature having been provided by the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of this city, as well as the Chambers of Commerce of other Southern California towns.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

MINIATURE Japanese garden at the residence of Mrs. W. L. Wade, for the smart breakfast with which she entertained Wednesday morning. Guests were received at the hostess's beautiful new home at No. 320 South St. Andrews place, and they were asked to meet Mrs. E. L. Brown, formerly Miss Beesie McGee, who returned the day before from a honeymoon trip to the Orient, and also for Mrs. George Wyeth Macdonald, who was Miss Venti Consigny and who will leave today for her new home in Jacksonville. Dainty gold-mongers and name cards and quantities of yellow blossoms further enhanced the pretty affair which was shared by Mrs. Bruce Hilte, Mrs. George J. Consigny, Jr., Mrs. E. S. Ormsby, Mrs. E. D. Brew, Mrs. Scott Ormsby, Mrs. M. E. Smith, Miss Viola Bateman, Miss Isabel Robinson, Miss Margaret Reimond and Miss Clara Stevenson.

A marriage of interest solemnized yesterday was that of Miss Amelia Carson, daughter of Mr. Victoria Carson and the late George Carson, to Joseph Atherton.

Mrs. Carson, the mother, before her marriage, was Miss Victoria Dominguez and the family is one of the wealthiest and best known on the Pacific Coast. The bride is a charming young woman who has traveled much. Mr. Atherton comes from Liverpool, Eng., and is highly connected.

The marriage took place at 11 o'clock in the old Dominguez ranch home, near Compton, and Mr. and Mrs. James Watson attended the wedding. The Rev. Father Burk of Compton, officiated, and following the marriage a wedding breakfast was served to a company of relatives.

A month's honeymoon trip through the north will be made, and then Mr. Atherton and his bride will be at home at Redondo Beach.

Has Returned. Miss Margaret Goetz has returned from New York where she was called in May on account of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Buchanan, who returned with Miss Goetz and is her guest at her home, No. 547 North Larchmont boulevard.

From Kentucky. Last Dr. of Louisville, Ky., is the house guest of his brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mayer of this city.

At Half Springs. Miss Vance and Miss de Laguna of the Westlake School for Girls, are passing a few days at Half Springs, prior to leaving for an extended eastern trip.

In San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Tatum of No. 757 Catalina street, with their young son, and Mrs. Tatum's sister, Miss Gertrude Murphy, have gone to San Francisco for a ten-day visit. Mr. Tatum formerly made the northern city her home and their stay will be a merry one.

King-McKenny Wedding. At high noon, recently, lines were spoken which united in marriage Miss Nellie S. King, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob William King, No. 1220 East Forty-ninth street, and Franklin Clyde McKenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin McKenny of this city. The bride was given in a white tailor-made suit with a jaunty hat, wearing gloves and carrying a corsage of white sweet peas, pink peonies and mallowhair fern. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jesse McKnight in the church, which had been tastefully decorated with Shasta daisies and ferns.

Miss Alma Cole and Miss Gladys White, crowned in white lingerie and wearing corsage bouquets of pink sweet peas, assisted as ushers. There were no attendants. Mendocino's wedding march was played by Mrs. Gideon Lorraine Meyer, cousin of the bride, as the bridal party approached the altar. After a short honeymoon the young couple will move into their bungalow in Glendale.

Ocean Trip. The liner Ventura sailed from San Francisco this week carrying the following passengers from Los Angeles: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Clark, Mrs. Harrison Mitchell, Mrs. A. L. Cavanagh, Miss Hilda Johnson, Miss Mary Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Moriarty, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Stange, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Cobb and Albert J. Nefrava. They will first visit Honolulu and then proceed on to Australia, spending one day at Samoa. Some of the passengers will continue on around the world.

A Pleasant Outing. A month's sojourn and travel in the north is planned by a party of Angelenos consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Marquis, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Brent and son Edwin, who will leave on the Yale Sunday for San Francisco and the Yosemite. A two weeks' stop in the Yosemite is contemplated and the party will again go to San Francisco.

To San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Ganahl of Highland Park, accompanied by their son, G. A. Ganahl, have gone to San Francisco to see their son, Lucien A. Ganahl, who is dangerously ill.

Wedding Bells. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carter, No. 5922 Monte Vista street, was the scene, June 30, of one of the prettiest weddings of the season, when their niece, Miss Adeline Alma Pittillo, became the bride of Francis Raymond Weissel. The bride, who was given in a white crepe de chine, carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley, was attended by Miss Vera Hilton as maid of honor, who was attired in a pink gown and carried a bouquet of Cecile Brunner roses. Henry A. Carter stood with the groom. Mrs. H. Percy Oates played the wedding march as the bridal party entered and took places under a canopy of ferns and floral bells where the beautiful and impressive marriage ceremony was read by the Rev. Will Knighton.

The home was elaborately decorated for the occasion, the living and music rooms in white and green—Shasta daisies, lilies and ferns—the library and dining-room in pink and green. Following a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Weissel will be at home to their friends at No. 1670 Winfield street, this city.

Home Again. Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Thompson have returned from a two months' tour of the West Indies and Panama.

Flying Trip. Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Beveridge made a flying visit with the Woodhams at San Jacinto for two days the last of the week.

At Home's Discontinued. Miss Olive Percival has discontinued her charming "Tuesday Evening" at home until November.

Informal Affairs. At a delightful informal gathering of friends Saturday evening, Miss Louise Turley of No. 1125 East Twenty-first street, announced her engagement to Charles E. Creal, recently from Imperial. The secret came as a surprise to the guests. At each cover gold slippers and wedding rings were placed as favors. From the center of the table, where roared a lovely French basket of pink sweet peas, the handkerchiefs with pink tulle, were narrow white and pink ribbons, to the ends of which were attached the cards bearing the secret. Pink candelabras adorned either end of the table. At the head of the place was a little cupid bearing the ring in a tiny white box. Refreshments were carried out in pink and white, and the hostess served moulded-in the form of bells, slippers, doves and cupid.

Mr. Creal is the son of Dr. C. E. Creal of Santa Ana Springs, N. Y. The guests sharing the delightful evening were: Mrs. Ernest Kribba, Mrs. F. O. Lantz, Miss Genevieve Booth, Miss Jessie Booth, Miss Grace Johnson, Miss Tacie Hanna, Miss Calia Milliken, Miss Belle Lyons, Miss Lela Crum, Miss Mildred Johnson, Miss Sadie Leahy, Miss Lina Leahy, Miss Nina Lander, Miss Edna Lyons.

MUST EXPLAIN. An action was filed in the United States District Court yesterday by W. H. Moore, Jr., trustee in bankruptcy in the estate of Ernest Swift, against whom an involuntary petition was filed by creditors January 23, 1913. It is now charged that within four months of the filing of the bankruptcy petition, Swift committed an act of bankruptcy in making a bill of sale to H. A. Peairs for the stock of goods located at No. 739 South Broadway, valued at $1500. Peairs is summoned to court to explain the transaction.

Young Fellow. The stuff from which good character actors are made; something a la Sol Smith Russell. Miss Singer as Mary Ann is promising, and so are Miss Hargrave and Miss Duncan.

Mr. Greenland, an old man, and a young musician, acquitted himself creditably. The performance of these young players, nervous of course, but well trained and surrounded with the accepted accessories of the profession, was very acceptable.

It is fascinating to watch the first flight of talent, and to wonder whether their young and exuberant enthusiasm will keep them straight on that hazardous road of the drama, so difficult and strenuous to follow to the final goal of recognition.

The demands of stock companies and the various branches of acting are great but exacting. The production of plays like the three given last night, with excellent make-up, costumes and scenery, is preparation for those who have the inclination for the stage to fit themselves for entering the ranks of their chosen profession with an acceptable equipment.

Empress. With the sensational motion pictures showing the thrilling whirlwind finish of the Los Angeles to Sacramento automobile race and the riot of laughter, "Fun in a Boarding-house," as the two spectacle features, the Empress Theater has proved one of the most popular that has ever occupied this stage.

As the headline feature of the new bill opening next Monday afternoon there will be shown a most unusual feature in Ray Thompson's famous High School horses, a recent feature with the Ringling circus and by all odds the greatest equestrian spectacle America has ever known. These horses actually dance "The Grizzly Bear," the "Texas Tommy" and other recent dance crazes. They are Arabian thoroughbreds and their display of almost human intelligence has made the act one of the most talked-of that has recently been seen in vaudeville.

Second in importance among the newcomers is J. Harbert Frank and Catherine Calvert.

Who will play the role of Mae Joyce in "The Escape" at the Burbank. She created the part in the East with marked success.

First Flight. YOUNG PLAYERS' INITIAL ROLES.

EGAN STUDENTS MAKE FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE.

Three clever plays afford unusual opportunity for dramatic and lyric interpretation by twelve promising young players, a hit nervous but enthusiastic.

BY HECTOR ALMID.

Eight stories above the stage, where they may appear some day, twelve young players made their professional bow to a large audience in Egan Hall last night.

The occasion of their first historic trial was the last dramatic production for the season of the advance pupils of the Egan School of Drama and Music.

As a vehicle for their various talents, "The Last Vast," an odd and over-enthusiastic one-act drama, by Suderman; "Sunset," the quaint composition of Jerome K. Jerome, and the third act "Merely Mary Ann" had been selected.

In "The Last Vast," a drama around a coffin, Mrs. Fredericks died creditably the role of Frau Mulbridge. Miss Baker, the one of the weeping dames; Miss Scharpe the adventurous countess; Mr. Mortenson appeared as Herr von Walters; Mr. Greenland as Mulbridge, and the undertaker was Mr. Pann. This young man, who is not yet 20, had an admirable make-up and played the part most acceptably.

In "Merely Mary Ann" he was the tall, angular Rev. Smudge. There is, in this intelligent, tall young fellow, the stuff from which good character actors are made; something a la Sol Smith Russell.

Miss Singer as Mary Ann is promising, and so are Miss Hargrave and Miss Duncan. Mr. Greenland, an old man, and a young musician, acquitted himself creditably. The performance of these young players, nervous of course, but well trained and surrounded with the accepted accessories of the profession, was very acceptable.

It is fascinating to watch the first flight of talent, and to wonder whether their young and exuberant enthusiasm will keep them straight on that hazardous road of the drama, so difficult and strenuous to follow to the final goal of recognition.

The demands of stock companies and the various branches of acting are great but exacting. Second in importance among the newcomers is J. Harbert Frank and company in the stirring playlet, "The Arm of the Law," while others on the new bill will be Lohse & Sterling in thrilling gymnastic feats; Creighton Bros., character comedians; Fay & Mynn in songs, dances and merriem; Albert Leonard, the novelty descriptive dancer, and the new motion pictures.

Hamburges Arrow Theater. Weeklings of current events are always interesting to the general public, and that turned out by the Hamburg Arrow Theater is especially attractive. Mutual weekly No. 26 will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in the Arrow. It includes the Memorial Day services at Venice, California; the commencement festival of the University of Chicago; the destruction of the world-famed fireworks factory, "Marazzi," at Rome, Italy; the motorcycle races at Toledo, O.; the dedication of the State site at Harbor View, San Francisco, by the Washington City "Ad" Men; the marriage of Kaiser William's daughter, the fashion of New York and Paris, as well as many other interesting events. Another good film on the programme is "The Eye of Kishida," a "Theater" in which Harry Benham, the Julian Eltinge of motion pictures, takes the leading part.

Century. Every week a little better, seems to be the motto at the Century. This week's bill "Heinrich's Wedding," is a picture, like the previous ones, to a better advantage than he does as Pickle Heins, the gentleman who marries. Al Franks has a good part as Michael Brady, and the prizefight between the two is the funniest ever staged at the Century.

Carl Hall and Walter Spencer both have good parts and their numbers are big hits in the show. Gale Henry and Alma Haller continue to do good work and all in all the show is very neatly staged and the musical numbers are prettily costumed.

Special attention is called to the handsome souvenir pennants which the management of the Century is giving away to the lady patrons at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Each holding a reserved seat coupon for either of these matinees will receive one of these pennants, and children accompanied by their parents will be admitted free to these matinees.

Drama League. Members of the Drama League of Los Angeles will have the privilege of hearing one of the country's greatest authorities on their pet subject next Tuesday afternoon. Prof. Raymond M. Alden of the University of Illinois, English department, will speak on "Poetic and Prosodic Elements of Modern Drama." The public is invited to the meeting, which will take place in Blanchard Hall at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Alden, who was for a number of years a member of the English department at Stanford University, is one of the national directors of the Drama League of America, of which the local organization is a chapter. He is a well-known contributor to the Atlantic, the American and other magazines, and won the short-story prize contest held by Collier's a few years ago. Several of Dr. Alden's books on English literature are college textbooks of wide repute. His forthcoming address will probably include portions of his speech before the national convention of the Drama League of America, recently held in Chicago, at which he was one of the speakers.

Gustave Frohman who is directing the tour of Blanch Bates for his brother Charles Frohman has secured the dramatic rights to the well known "Miss Philura" and intends to present Helen Lowell in the title character. Mr. Frohman will be in Los Angeles next week and will confer with Oliver Morosco about a stage production here of "Miss Philura," in which event Miss Lowell will come here from the East and begin rehearsals under Mr. Frohman's direction.

PERCY BRONSON, WINNIE BALDWIN AND PETROVA CAPTURED.

First Two, Now Playing at Orpheum, Will Have Splendid Parts in "Madame Sherry"—Paul Armstrong to Write Play for Petrova Which Promises Sensations.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

Apparently the few remarks I made last week about Mme. Petrova, when that Titian haired lady was at the Orpheum, are about to bear fruit, for she met Oliver Morosco the other night and now I understand that he is going to engage her to appear in a new play by Paul Armstrong.

In her clever vaudeville sketch Mme. Petrova gave us a hint of her talent by presenting fragments of "Sapho," "The Shulamite" and other plays of emotional type, Madame is picturesque, like Armstrong and the combination ought to work for a real sensation.

Dave Hartford informed me yesterday that he will start on his vacation Monday and will go to Catalina. While he is away James Darling will be in charge at the Burbank and catch up the Madame Sherry rehearsals which he has been conducting at the Majestic.

I understand that while Blanch Bates is here, she will have for her guest none other than hubby, who is George Creel, a well known newspaper man and formerly a police commissioner in Denver, where his reform methods made him, for the time being, as prominent as his talented wife.

Now is the time to get a line on the theatrical future, for, while the season for road shows here is temporarily dead, the producing offices are a-quiver with activity.

Percy Bronson and Winnie Baldwin who are this week "cleaning up" at the Orpheum with that capital vaudeville skit of theirs, are not long for vaudeville. When I discovered them at the Madam Sherry rehearsal yesterday I made them few up and it develops that they have for some time been under contract with Morosco to appear in this play which follows "The Escape" at the Burbank.

Clarence Brown, manager of the Orpheum, who as I told you last week, is in Salt Lake on a vacation, has the audacity to write that quite cool there and that in a long good time. He further states that the new Orpheum theater in city will open August 2 and that he expects to attend the festivities.

Bronson is to be Edward and Miss Baldwin will be the girl Papinta. Both roles will be excellent opportunities and the play is to be ideal.
